

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LRP's National Institute's Six Tailored Learning Tracks to Include More Than 40 Engaging Sessions
Relevant and timely sessions, from the nation's top legal experts, span six dedicated tracks to allow attendees to customize their own learning experiences and meet their training needs.

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. – January 23, 2024 – LRP's National Institute on Legal Issues of Educating Individuals with Disabilities®, the leading source for compliance strategies, best practices and case updates impacting special education programs, announced six tailored learning tracks that will include more than 40 sessions during the conference taking place May 5 - 8, 2024 at the Savannah Convention Center in Savannah, Ga.

The six focused tracks include:

- Administration: This track is geared toward special education leaders who develop systems, programs, processes and policies that strengthen the working environment, support student achievement, optimize resources and enhance organizational outcomes.
- Behavior: Special education directors, directors of school mental health and behavioral services, school psychologists, behavior specialists, clinical services coordinators, and trauma trainers will get the latest strategies to approach discipline dilemmas and student mental health under federal laws.
- Ethics: Attorneys can earn continuing legal education credits, or CLEs, by attending one or both sessions in this track based on application of the ABA Model Rules of Professional Conduct in the special education context.
- IDEA: With sessions for every role in special education, this track includes comprehensive coverage of schools' obligations to provide all children with disabilities with a free appropriate public education.
- Section 504: The goal of this track is to assist Section 504 coordinators, administrators, social workers, counselors and service providers in building a better understanding of how to avoid discrimination claims and provide all students an equal opportunity.
- Special Ed Connection<sup>SM</sup> Users Group: In this track, attendees will learn how to maximize their subscription to Special Ed Connection and use this innovative online resource to advance staff knowledge and skills related to best practices, the latest court decisions, compliant policies and more.

“The six session tracks at the 2024 Institute are designed to deliver a balanced program. Attendees can mix and match depending on their interests and favorite presenters,” said Julie J. Kline, Esq., Vice President, LRP Media Group and Conference Chair. “The session tracks help school teams divide and conquer the wealth of available content. And I encourage everyone in Savannah to take part in a Special Ed Connection Users Group session to discover the valuable content LRP provides all year long.”

The Institute will feature eight half-day symposiums giving special educators an opportunity to take a deeper look at major issues in their field. The 2024 event will also include three captivating general sessions from Attorney Jan Tomsy, with Fagen Friedman & Fulfrost; Attorney Karen Haase, with KSB School Law; and Director of the U.S. Department of Education's Office of Special Education Programs, Valerie Williams.
